Controversial Keywords

No controversial keywords found in your title, description or tags!

 Tag count - the number of different keywords or phrases

 Note! While keywords such as "make money" and "how to make money" would be considered the same tag because of the similar meanings. It's still worth using both for greater reach

 Tag volume - how many videos contain keywords and whether those keywords are used to find the video

 Keywords in the title/description - keywords or phrases in the title/description

 Tripled keywords - the duplication of keywords or phrases in the title, description, and tags

 Ranked tags - tags for which the video ranks first in a YouTube search

 High volume ranked tags - high-frequency tags for which the video ranks first in a YouTube search

 Controversial keywords - keywords it would be better to remove

Translate the title and description of the video

In the video manager, in the "Subtitles" tab, you can add subtitles and also automatically translate the video descr

After selecting the desired language, click the "Add" button, and then in the pop-up window - "Translate." VidIQ will then translate your description into the desired language ⓘ The translation is automatic, so it is advisable to check it, especially if there is a lot of text in the description

The screenshot displays a side-by-side comparison of video metadata in two languages. On the left, under 'Original Language', the text is in English (United States). On the right, under 'Translation (by AIR Creators Ecosystem)', the text is in Ukrainian. A blue 'Translate' button is visible at the top right of the translation panel. The translated text is highlighted with an orange border.
